CHICAGO, Nov. 16, 2009 -- The National Center for Healthcare Leadership (NCHL) announced today that its annual award has been named The Gail L. Warden Leadership Excellence Award in honor of Gail L. Warden, founding chairman of the NCHL Board, Chairman Emeritus of Henry Ford Health System and one of healthcare's foremost leaders.

"Gail has truly been a force for change in healthcare and in mentoring future generations. Naming this prestigious award in his honor is an enduring tribute," NCHL President and CEO Marie E. Sinioris said. "With healthcare reform at center stage in our country, we are pleased to recognize Gail's remarkable accomplishments as an innovator in healthcare delivery, community wellness, and health policy and his lasting legacy of leadership."

NCHL introduced its healthcare leadership award in 2005. Denis A. Cortese, MD, President and CEO of Mayo Clinic is its first recipient under its new name; it was presented to him at NCHL's Leadership Award Dinner on November 4, 2009. The Gail L. Warden Leadership Excellence Award is given annually to individuals who exemplify NCHL's mission to identify and mentor future generations of healthcare leaders toward the goal of transforming organizational performance and improving healthcare in the U.S.

The following organizations contributed support for the naming of the Gail L. Warden Leadership Excellence Award: American Hospital Association, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts, Greater New York Hospital Association, Health Management Academy, Institute for Healthcare Improvement, National Quality Forum, and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.
